

New luxury residential development coming to Cedar Park

Community Impact News

By Macy Hurwitz Tuesday, 03 January 2012

<http://impactnews.com/leander-cedar-park/255-recent-news/16364-new-luxury-residential-development-coming-to-cedar-park#.TwUoJdmhaqo.email>

MileStone Community Builders will break ground this month on a new, luxury residential development near the intersection of Parmer Lane and Brushy Creek Road named The Reserve at Brushy Creek.

MileStone is the company behind West Cypress Hills neighbourhood in West Austin, and according to a news release, the new development planned for Cedar Park will be very similar, with homes from the Pinnacle Collection.

"We are thrilled to bring the luxury Pinnacle Home Collection to Cedar Park, which will deliver an unprecedented level of quality to this area of Austin," said Garrett Martin, CEO of MileStone Community Builders, in a news release. "This new community offers a tremendous location with exceptional amenities surrounded by greenbelts and the picturesque Brushy Creek area."

The City of Cedar Park approved the construction plans for the development, and Duncan Commercial handled the sale of the property to MileStone.

"This is an exceptional property in a great location, held by the Will Wilson family for more than three generations," said Joe Duncan, Founder and Owner, Duncan Commercial. "We were pleased to have the opportunity to act as the brokerage firm between the Wilson family and MileStone Community Builders to develop a new luxury home community in Cedar Park."

Courtesy of JB Goodwin