

RATINGS IN ON HOME BUILDERS

WESTLAKE VILLAGE, Calif. (J.D. Power and Associates) – A new study by J.D. Power and Associates has identified the top home builders in the four major Texas markets when it comes to overall customer satisfaction, home quality and new home design.

In the "2008 New Home Builder Customer Satisfaction Study," David Weekley Homes snagged the highest rating across all three categories in the Austin market.

Darling Homes and Medallion Homes swept the number one spots in each category in Dallas–Fort Worth and San Antonio, respectively. In Houston, Trendmaker Homes was the favorite in overall customer satisfaction and home quality, while Darling Homes ranked highest in home design.

For more information on the study, visit J.D. Power and Associates' website.

Courtesy of JB Goodwin