Easton Park, Austin, TX

This stunning home in Easton Park is a testament to the quality of Perry Homes as a builder. Stroll through the front door and find yourself welcomed into an open living and kitchen area with short corridors tucked away to access the rest of the home. The primary bedroom boasts tall windows granting abundant light throughout, and an enviable en-suite bathroom with a spacious standing shower and garden tub. The walk-in-closet found in the primary bedroom only has one problem: you may want to buy enough clothes to fill it to the brim! The secondary bedrooms share the same abundance of natural light as the primary bedroom and grant their occupants more than enough room to settle in. The office and utility room are easily accessible from the rest of the house without intruding on the living areas. This home is expertly designed to allow its occupants the space to work from home and have privacy in their individual rooms as well as having a warm common area for all to come together. The backyard completes the common area with a delightfully covered back porch, shielding you from the Texas heat. Come and tour this home before it's too late!
