Division A, Austin, TX

Own an Iconic part of Austin. Cisco's is selling. The restaurant has been in business for 60+ years & the owner would like to retire. Buy & take over operations as a similar type restaurant or come in & change the style & type of restaurant or even convert to a bar. New residential development across the street will increase resident density. There is an office tenant upstairs & bar tenant located in the back courtyard. Please see agent for showing please do not disturb owner during business hours.

Built in 1914
